

The type-us fever is not fatal

skirts of civilization

Incresant rains have always a dampening effect on enthusiasm

The Emperor of Germany wears eighty-eight decorations on gala days.

Flour is more refined than meal. Wheat has a head on it while corn is all cars.

The thermometers are very aspiring and have a peculiar way of getting up in the world. Sedalia is not full of christians, bu some christians have been seen "full" in the place.

When a financial reporter says that money is easy, he means that is easier to spend it than it is to get it.

get in a good word for the living.

. Persons living on the Texas side of Rio Grande are apt to lasso-rate the feelings of the Mexican greaser. That old story about riches having wings must be a mistake. Otherwise they would fly to, as well as from a

If the weather keeps on at this rate the thermometer will soon be "Ninety and Nine" with an inclination to push "Old Kundred" pretty close.

that when a person puts his grandson of his church "for bold, arrogant and on a red hot stove, he's likely to get ayowed heresy;" and it was charged into trouble.

The latest wet-eved and sentimenta song is 'Darling Kiss my Tears Away. What a damp occulation that would the only thing holy; but times have The doctor met this fierce arraignchanged and ugly men have a chance ment with unshaken courage, assert-

The news and candy boys on the Pacific railways are to wear uniforms in future. They have uniformly trieving it from the Athestical philoso. been a nuisance for a long time.

half dozen men have applied for the new. He arraigns the church for position of the Nathan murderers: having denounced things which are and they haven't got the right fellow not opposed to Christianity; of hav-

Somebody is always asking, in regard to horseback riding, "on which side of a lady should the gentlemen escort ride?" A great deal is to be of having, by its intelerance, invoked mid on both sides.

this respect the two cities are exactly zeal of an ignorant and half-barbarous is not remarkable.

Jeb. Stuart's most noted army scout need to be first rate in saving bodies of men : perhaps he will do quite as well in saving souls.

to be revealed by the crookedness of his thoughts. For that matter, a woman's too. It comes to just the same his way. thing after all.

The inquiry is very old, "What Putting him up for a cigar sign is the less grave than those which ushered people. If its restoration strips equally ancient method of disposing in the Reformation; and the great United States bonds of something of the son of the forest.

The Eastern managers of carnage are letting loose the dops of war with mussles on. A person's nationae is able to see it. It is very possible that tainment in that city.

SEDALIA WEEKLY BAZOO.

VOLUME IX.

SEDALIA, MISSOURI TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1877.

the author wishes they hadn't, since they don't speak very well of it.

The Richland train wrecking horror is the legitimate outgrowth of the reluctance of the Missouri courts to condemn murderers, and of soft-hearted governors who save them from the

Some clergymen-an instance in California-have to use an ax handle as an argument to convince their wives that they are good men. This is pretty hard on the wives whatever may be said of the preachers.

Gen. Comstock, of the army, has gone to Europe to study "triangulation"-a sort of three-cornered position abroad. What he expects to find out about it, is difficult to conjecture. People in this country think they Border ruffisnism belongs to the out- know as much about triangles as they do in Europe.

> Gail Hamilton-the literary female who has lately been creating a furore of excitement among the politicians, is fair, fat and forty; an old for a husband for over a quarter of a century, has learned to despise the whole generation of men as unappreciative, wicked, frivolous and corrupt

HERESY IN THE CHURCHES.

People are always advised to sneak the country have been arraigned be- upon by the Western shipper as an ocwell of the dead, and to occasionally fore the Church Courts for heretical casion for him to utilize river transportaken the liberty to put his objections their victory as soon as it is within

But the most recent of the heretical divines is Dr. Blauvelt, of the Reformed Lutheran persuasion, who has That Philadelphia man has learned been tried and convicted by a Synod against him, and so far proved as to be sustained by the Church court be fore which he was brought, that he entertained opinions which "assaulted the very foundations of all evangeli cal religion; which betraved the cause In ancient days the beautiful was of Christ and wounded the Church.' ing that his views reveal the only fundamental and lasting method of serving the cause of true religion, and which are the only means left of re phy which has overrun the old world Within the last three years some and is making rapid headway in the ing wrapped around it an impenetrable mantle of bigotry and injustice; of having divorced its members and their children from the most innocent and enjoyable pleasures in life; and whole Western country demands it, and a natural spirit of opposition to the into effect. It will go far toward re-There are no hand organ men in creeds and doctrines which were born storing the debt-burdened West to Constantinople, nor in Sedalia. In in the superstition and unreasoning something like an equal footing with up-little memorandays—which I had writ they were on the spot at alike. In other respects the similitude age, and perpetuated by the bigotry pression, and will be a potent auxiliary and folly of men. He held that the in our efforts to throw off the burdens thousand dollars loaned out—and the gals questions at issue were of grave and of taxation. It will make things easy have all got critical importance to the church, if for the debtor classes and work no inhas turned to be a preacher. He it would rescue those who are on the jury to the creditors. Life and enterverge of surrendering their belief in dustry will follow in its train. It is every form of faith and hope and the money of the poor man-safe and from every law of Christian reliable. It is not subject to the The bent of a man's mind is likely practice. But this eloquent appeal fluctuations which accompany a paper of the revealed by the crookedness of failed of its object. The church

> To the thoughtful observer, however, these points of difference are significant of an impending crisis in church rovernment, which involves issues no to recognition as the money of the athletes of the Orthodox churches may yet meet in an encounter which is to legislate and not the bondholders. will stir the religious society of the Viewed in any light it is a great act country with one of the greatest ec-clesiastical and doctrinal agitations of eratic party of the country means to

DIVERSION OF TRADE.

The Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads, as a means of acquiring a larger hold upon the import and export trade, have encouraged the formation of steamship lines connecting their roads with Liverpool and other foreign ports. These steamship companies are unable to compete on equal terms with the lines which connect with New York or New Orleans. and in order to offset the superior ad vantages of these ports the two rail road companies mentioned have estabtablished a system of "Through Freights" under which they propose to carry from the West to Europe and from Europe to the West for a fixed ate. In what ratio these joint freights are divided between the railroads and the steamship lines has not been told, but the rates are so excessively low that it the steamships get anything the railroads must do their part of the work for nothing. Under this errangement goods of nearly all kinds except those classified as "measure ment" are laid down in Chicago, St. Louis and even in Kansas City at less than one-half the ordinary price. By this plan or device the railroads are really the carriers, the steamship companies merely doing the ocean service for them. The object of the les sened tariff is, of course, to win from Ever since the days of Martin Luth- rival points the carrying trade of the er there have been found men who West; to prevent the farmer from reared in the peculiarities of church dis-shipping his grain by river or lake. cipline have, on reaching mature age and to defeat all the advantages which and ripe experience, flung off the re- it was hoped would be derived by a striction of their creed, and have continuous water route to foreign mar-Perhaps they have evolved some new fined to converting a large portion of theory, or the old ideas have grown our carrying trade into a positive loss

Pruth is pronounced in rhyme with distasteful to their views of life, to themselves instead of the farmer. toot. This comes of an educational Whichever motive prompts their Having inaugurared the policy of action, the result is the same. Heresy chear transportation as against the is gradually creeping into the church- river, the railroads will be compelled es. Of late years these troubles have to carry it out, since any attempt on become notably frequent, and a num- the part of railroads to advance the ber of the most eminent divines in rates in future will be quickly seized opinions. The most remarkable of tion. The immediate object in view. these were the cases of Dr. Swing and however, is to secure the trade and to Dr. Miller of the Presbyterian de-discourage the building of barges and nomination. The former sustained other facilities for transportation on evenings since he put in an appearance at Looking very sober. Mr. D. P. Stewart, an by his congregation was, nevertheless, Western waters. How far they will a farm house a few miles from Lamonte engineer on the road, who saw the prisbanished from the church; and Dr. succeed in it remains to be seen. The and asked for the privilege of staying all Miller fared no better, since he has farmers of the West, are not easi- night. According to Missouri custom, this become a Christian Ishmaelite, wan- ly deceived, and they are as like Is was readily granted and the dering aimlessly, with no rock in not to see '.ough the flimsy gauze was made at home. During the evening view upon which to rest his feet. His with which the railroad companies however, he strayed out into the garden and Whisky and opium will do the busi- dissension with his church was in ref- have invested their enterprise. They when found by his entertainers was appaness for a nation, and make the young erence to the nature of the Godhead have worked for years to break down rently holding a conversation with somemen see visions and the old men dream and other doctrines of the Presbyteri- railroad monopolies, and they are not body on the opposite side of the hedge. It an confession, about which he had likely to surrender all the fruits of was too dark to see whether it was a verita-

THE ISSUE IN OHIO. There is very little question but what the main issue in the Ohio cama struggle for ascendancy between the can. Western and Eastern interests-a battle between the farmer and the bondlar and as one of the precious metals ious horse hunter. was a money standard down to 1873. at present, but that it does not, is owing more to the foreign influence that other cause. It is proposed to make said before, they disbelieved me." this is done the purchasing power of to strip and search him. What impregold and silver will be the same. That ble to the debasing alloy authorized miration which has been won by the by Congress. That steps will be taken immediately on the assembling of the In fact, Mr. Cummings is not remarkable October Session to remedy this evil is pretty generally understood. The fortunately for us, it has a majority of votes with which to carry its purposes where there is nothing now but de-will represent a dollar as it purports to stood by its creed and the doctor went do. As a synonim of American honesty it is hard and unyielding in price. The demand for the silver dollar has no connection with the greenback with it. It stands on its own claims ple. If its restoration strips the

THEY MADE A BOAT. An Episode of the M., K. & T., During the Recent Wash-out at Orage Mission.)

Which the river had raisest, And the track was affect, And the passengers gazed O'er that terrible most, Till, at last, the R. K. men constructed

A sort of a large that would float. It was that like a flask. Or a side of sole-leather-Something much like a raft,

But it held well together-Twas indeed a delectable transfer For passengers during moist weather. J. H. Sullivan, be

First proposed that they build it, Then he laughed in great glee As the passengers filled it. And it staid on the top of the water As if Providence wished it and willed it

Captain Rogers, a man Of considerable merit,

As conductor, began To be nervous and fidget "We must give this 'ere boat a good name. Or her burden, she never can bear it."

This conductor is very Well known to the public. He is social and merry. Wears a "navy blue" de "Have your way," said the Superinte

So George christened the raft Great Republic 'Mid the cheers of the crowd, And with voices condensed. Through the elements loud

This flat-boat proceeded in safety. By a trusty-picked crew, she was towed. But the "tow-line" was weak,

So this brave little fleet Rushed the waters adown, And "Commodore Sullivan wondered If he would win death or renown. Well! they floundered around In the stream for an hour,

And the current was strong,

Till at last they touched ground, Disembarked 'midst a shower Of kisses and congratulations From those who remained on the shor

You will pardon our pride For he this you must see Journeying over Life's sea, In train or on "flat-boat", when guided By the boys of the M., K. & T. Separts, June 16, 77.

A DETECTIVE IN DISGUISE.

He Stops in an Inquisitive Household and is Suspicioned of Being What He Isn't.

A long, lanky and rather sorry looking Dresden in search of straved or stolen animals. His success, however, has not been as remarkable as his perseverance. A few ble person in flesh and blood the wandering guest was talking to or some creature of his imagination, or as he himself alleged thought, however, the domestic

"I'm tond of bull dogs," remarked the paign will be the propriety of remon- Bazoo reporter, "and never miss an oppor-

"What is your object?" "Well, dogs have sense, an' I'd ruther be friendly with 'em nor not. You see they holder. Silver has always been popu-never bites friends," continued the sagac-

"But as I was sayin' they come up was a money standard down to 1070. But as I was sayin they come up on me not yet been caught, and who has served a of thing won't do. Your bride's in bed, of the golden haired and cherry mouthed I was talkin' to. I said I was talkin' to the bull dog; but they disbelieved me: whose name is not given, was seen to pass and wanted to know if I wern't a deetective s felt in our finances than from any in disguise; I told 'em I wern't, but as ! Franklyn on last Friday. With him there the coin of standard weight and fine- Mr Cummings (that is the horse hunter's ness, which has a recognized value in name) then proceeded to glate how the susevery country on the globe. When picious citizens then and there proceeded his elegant figure made upon his entertainers, Mr. Cummings seemed reluctant to it is not so now is not because of any de-confess. He intimated, however, that his fect in the metal, but is attributa- statuesque physique did not excite the ad-for physical attractions.

"But they stripped and searched you? nquired the reporter. "They did, sir, for a fact."

"And what did they find?" "Well, nothin' pertickler. I had some pieces of paper, which they tuck and tore alibi, as, according to Oliver's testimony, keep sway from her. Upon my soul I've in Appleton, where to his infinite joy he

A HANKERIN' AFTER ME:

but this gal what I was sorter scribblin' sion that it was hardly safe. The sherif about is a little bit skittish-kinder offish said he could hold the prisoners while shakes, after all. Well, as I was savin', would require a strong guard, making they tuck them pieces of paper-no anybody, you see and tore ders; and then wanted me to get right up Richland for Springfield yesterday morning

"What! without your clothes?" "No. They 'peared to be in an hurry, but they 'lowed me time to PULL ON MY RREDCHES."

"And you traveled?" "Old man, I got right away from that place-for I had my suspicions." "What were they?" "I think them fellers are home-thiere

"You don't look like one." "No, sir, I wear good clothes, an' I'm likely to be exhausted before he hears that the dogs are barking.

The Prosbyterian Indies will be amisted in the Cummings of the century.

The Prosbyterian Indies will be amisted in the Mistletoe by Mm. Edwinn Dean Low, of St. Louis, who got up the enter-able to see it. It is very possible that able to own 'em," and Mr. Cammings con THE TRAIN WRECKERS.

Belief That the Men in Custody are The Right Ones-The Diabolical Plot Very Weakly Designed-What the Dead Engineer's Presence of Mind Averted.

Adjt. Gen. Mitchell, who attended the examination of the train-wreckers at Richland on the part of the state, came Jefferson City Friday morning. Other parties who were at Richland after the trial give some additional account of prisoners and their examination. Mr. Mitchell expresses the opinion that that they had got hold of the

And he is determined that the law shall h carried out.

Sheriff Hendricks of Pulaski county who had charge of the accused, stated that he was fully satisfied they had the right men. The same opinion was expressed by Daniel H. Nichols, the division superintendent of the road, who came down to Richland from Springfield and stayed on the ground the whole time of the examination and kept up an efficient guard over the prisoners, who displayed in their wicked work the malignity of fiends without the courage to carry out their diabolical designs. The plot was BADLY PLANNED and miserably executed. The place where they made the attempt was two miles west of Wood End Station, on the embankment 46 feet high, on a heavy grade of a spur of the Ozarks. It was a poor night for plunder, it being Saturday night and very little money aboard the train. There is little doubt that the whole train would have been hurled down the embankment but for the the larger portion of the train safe, and fearing to meet with so large an unharmed

PIRED OFF THEIR PISTOIS And retreated to the brush, leaving their clubs on the track. On Wednesday night after the result of the investigatron was known, some of the parents and other relatives of the prisoners held a religious meeting and prayed for the misguided youths. A preacher was also present to conduct the services. The ing the country between Hughesville and old people took it to heart very much while the accused, for whose benefit the prayers open after their trial, thus state his im-claimed that he was not present when the symptoms of a mind distraught. These train was wrecked, on account of the storm became more noticeable as the hour for re that was raging, but was at the house of a tiring drew near; and when his best man neighbor. He is a young man apparently came to him after awhile, and tapping him twenty years old, of small size and indiffer- on the shoulder, in a business nort of way. ent looks. He did not testify positively as said, "Come, Charley, old fellow, I'll show to who were present at the wrecking, be- you to your room-your bride is tucked cause he was not there on account of being away as 'snug as a bug in a rug," one overtaken by the storm. It is generally would have thought he was stricken with a

Notwithstanding his denial. He says the thing was planned, and was to have been horse hunter, while relating the story to a carried into effect on the Saturday previous, but failed on account of a failure of etizing he silver dollar. It will be tunity to make friends with 'em when I some of the gang to reach the section house one and a half miles from the place where the wreck subsequently occurred and the thing was subsequently postponed. regarded as the deepest in the crime, with to bed yet." still another one of the murderers who has term in the penitentiary. This person, and you must go and keep her company." through Dixon 101 miles southeast of

are still three others not yet caught, but who are supposed to be LURKING ABOUT THE VICINITY. According to what the detectives have been able to learn. Gibson, does not talk any, but lets his friends do all the work He said to Mr. Stewart, who saw him Wednesday night at the Richland station: "G-dd-n you, come in and take

Most all of Gibson's relatives are well to do and respectable, His father is an old gray headed man, a farmer, and his uncle is in the grocery business at Richland. The two other prisoners have nothing re-them being a short, burly fellow. The amine the prisoners spoiled the pretended

The question arising as to the prop place to hold the prisoners for safe-keeping Mr. John O. Day, one of the counsel, an the sheriff went up to Lebanon and inspected the jail there and came to the conelu re to expensive, and it was, therefore, decided to take them to Springfield. The prisoners left on train 19. If tried at Springfield it must be under a change of venue; other wise will be had before Judge Hill of the Pulseks county court, who is now holding court at Steeleville.

A Good Word.

Neveds Ledger 15th inst.: On the first pag of this issue of the Later will be found the ent of the Sedalia Bazoo steam printing bonce, book bingery, and blank book manu-BAROO, and your work will be done neathy. scomptly, and at reasonable rates.

Ho Use Talking. Peter Kuhn's Resolution is the cent cigar in town.

A WEDDING NIGHT.

The Sad Experience of a Bashful Bridegroom-The Excitement Incident to Getting Married, Pre- have been natural, but it wasn't the bashvents His Taking His Natural Re- ful bridegroom's way. He fumbled with

It as a sad thing to be bashful. It has been the fruitful source of more misery than anything else. The man who perishe at the stake, who dies upon the battle field, and who has courage to carry him through life." the most desperate undertakings and the most dreadful peril, will shrink and quiver at the bold glance of a woman's eve. like an aspen breathed upon by the wind. It is bride was not in a conversational mood and and emerald hedge, this tender child of perhaps, not so much a sense of his own he relapsed into a meditative speculation inworthings, as the exalted estimate he has of women. Modesty, indeed, has always been considered a peculiarity of noble naures, and diffidence a characteristic tender-hearted people. The modest man door, and a barsh voice, which Charley in ning, crept through the foliage underneath the diffident man never will. There is a demanded: very observable distinction in the terms. The sensitive shrinking apparent in so many natures, which is often called modesty, is really bashfulness—a diffidence which no effort of the mind can subdue, A noticeable example of this peculiarity is related to have occurred at

A COUNTRY WEDDING. on the Blackwater, in this county, a fee nights ago. The bride was a pretty, petite brunette, with great laughing black eyes and cheeks like roses. The groom from near Marshall in Saline county, and, by the way, a very sensible person in all but his extreme diffidence, and remarkable bashfulness in female society. How he ever courted a girl with the snap and jollity of his bride, is a mystery. But he did court turning on the air brakes, thereby saving her, and what is more, he won her love. the rear cars from leaving the track. The by a long course of preparation, or perhaps scoundrels who had their clubs ready to it came naturally. There is really no very great difficulty in courting if one only makes up his mind to do it. Be that as it may, the wedding day came, and Banner Town, decided to locate, and accord- booming-and dollars rolled into his coders with it a host of smiling guests. The ingly bought a small house and lot for with a golden chink, there stole mon his union of the young people was, in all re- six hundred dollars in cash. His "shingle" senses in soft, flute-like cadence, the tender spects, a suitable match, and friends and was soon swinging in the breeze, and upon refrain: relatives were happy in the thought that which the passer by could read in gilt lettheir young lives would exemplify the happy term the following words: "W. P. V-, M. D." unity of the ivy and the oak. His sturdy strength and her loving grace would blend medical circles, and ere long this prepos- bed, and grasping his walking cane, into "two souls with but a single thought, sessing disciple of Asculapius found himtwo hearts that beat as one." So there was self installed in a good practice, which he wherein, as the lock turned softly at his merry-making and congratulations. But as might have held, had his conduct been touch, his ear caught the thrill of these be the evening waxed apace, the bridegroom, otherwise than what it was. From the who should have been the merriest of that time he bought his property, or soon afterhappy throng, began to show evident

He would start suddenly and flush violently if any one, by chance, approached, and showed, in many respects, the unmistakable violent attack of the ague. His teeth chattered, and his knees knocked together IN UNCONTROLLABLE TERROR. "Why, what's the matter, old man?" inonired his sympathetic friend. "You tice was haven't got the shakes, have you?"

"Well, not exactly the shakes, Jim-but With his rapidly decreasing practice, the -but I'm not sleepy a bit. I always set Doctor's fond and delusive dream of amasup very late at home," and Charley looked sing a fortune vanished in thin air, and up at his stalwart friend appealingly, his he was brought to realize the truth of that Gibson, one of the prisoners, is pretty fair lips quivering and his face the color of quaint old saying, "all is not gold that looking, and about thirty years old. He is whey. "Boshaw! Jim, it sin't time to go glitters." In this stage of his career, when pose I know. I'm not her maid; but I tor left and after a few days returned suppose she is. I never heard of a young Thursday with the lady sleeping with her clothes on. Come along and find out for yourself. I can't in question, and put up at the hotel. I'll take a turn or two out on the lawn be- a ticket to Appleton and left on the evening fore retiring. These beautiful summer train. That train, however, had brought nights are really so soft and balmy that down the young lady's father, a horny really I think I'll enjoy the moonlight." hander old Boone county farmer, with hands took a firm hold on the collar of his purmit of the fleeing couple. He at once friend's coat. "I believe in my soul you began to make inquiries about "the turtle are the biggest calf I ever heard of in my doves," and learned to his dismay, that they life. Here you are married to one of the had given him the dodge and escaped again. prettiest girls in the country -a perfect True to his parental instinct, however, he angel in fact-and no doubt waiting for resolved to continue the pursuit and if you as impatiently as I am to get you there; possible, save his daughter from and you all the while like a confounded booby are making all sorts of exuces to The next morning found the old gentleman

"Jim, is-is she undressed?"

"But you see, Jim, I never was I ore in my life."

"What has that got to do with it?" Well, you see, a man sorter gets use to home, his daughter it after awhile. Jim, what must I do?" "What must you do?" and Jim looked at him as if he thought his friend had been

"You see, Jim, I feel very curious." "I should think so." "All of a quiver, so to speak." "Charley, this thing has gone on ddenly bereft of his senser.

nough. I'm going to put you in and with that he gave his friend a forwar more which propelled him up the stair three stops at a jump. Reaching the door, he lifted the latch and with another propublion, rent him sprawling into the middle of the floor. Rising quickly, Charley bowed hastily and profoundly to

A PLAKY PYRAMID I lines that descrited a chair in the middle of the room. A low, musical laugh from the bed made him aware that he was exhausting his apologies on an inenimate that is-I'll just step down and get a drink terday, and was brought to this city for NUMBER 3.

But Jim had locked the door and Charley was a prisoner. A great many people, circumstanced a Chariey was would have ended his difficulties and gone straight to bed. This would down in a chair. His bride stirred impatiently in the bed "It's rather warm in here-don't you think so Miss Bettie "

the lock on the door awhile and then sat

There was no reply. "I don't think I ever felt so warm in my

"If I can only get her to talking and she'll invite me to come to bed, I think I can manage it, thought Charley. But his upon the mysteries of marriage.

How long this would have lasted, there is no means of knowing, but just at that forth that the spring-tide is the time for his confusion, mistook for Bettie's father's, his sweetheart's window, and trillied-"like

"Why in thunder don't you go to bed instead of keeping the house up all night with this everlasting racket.

Now, Charley hadn't made noise end to disturb a mouse, but in the bewildered condition of his intellect he didn't know but what he had, and with the sudden impulse given by this violent accusation he speedily removed his clothes, and creeping on the outside rail of the bed. laid down to the sad experience of his wedding night.

COQUETISH DOCTOR.

The Romance of a Physician-He Rlopes With a Young Lady and hard day's buffeting with the world-posiis Pursued by Her Pather-The bly imagining that some sharp-witted rival Lovers Make Good Their Escape. in trade had bested him a little-and re-

CLINTON, Mo., June 14.

are ever ready and willing to lend an atrere in part led to this strange conclusion by the reticence of the Doctor regarding his antecedents or relations. However, the Doctor seemingly paid no attention to the fell both reports circulating among his gossiping neighbors, but still he must have been painfully sensible of the fact that his prac-

DAILY GROWING LESS. crushed in mind and pocket, he no doubt "Old man," said his monitor, "this sort began to pine for the sweet companionship Boone county lass, whose songs at evening's close, swept o'er the broad and turbid wa-"Why, confound you, how do you sup- tern of the Missouri. Leastwise the Doc-

BOONE COUNTY MAID rait here palavering with you all night." Thursday evening the Doctor went to the "Never mind me Jim, you just go long. depot and purchased himself and charmer "See here, Charley !" and Jim's nervous fints as big as ten kettles, who was in hot the biggest notion in the world to pick you found the object of his search, and learned been tied between the two. That evening he returned to this city and put up at the hotel. Next morning, while attending to some business, preparatory to starting

HER IMPENDING RUIN.

> STOLE A MARCH on him and fled again with the hands Doctor, who it appears had followed the old gentleman from Appleton with no other object than that which he so successfully succeeded in carrying out. The old gentleman now became fully aware of the fact that "love laughs at locksmiths," and acordingly gave over the chase. Before he left, however, he gave 'Squire E- a letter to give to the Doctor, should be return. The Doctor returned alone in a tew days not the letter, sold his horse, mortgaged his property and left with the proceeds for

Such are the particulars of V's, thrilling and BOMANTIC ELOPEMENT, if elopement it be, as given the rep good and reliable authority. this morning, but is now son cat.

object.

"I beg your pardon Miss—that is Bettie —A little boy named Thos. Black, where ing of the Board of Directors at the earliest convenient date.

—I dish't mean to come in so abruptly—I— parents reside in Houstonia, died yes— in the meeting then adjourned.

J. H. Guer,

WEEKLY BAZOO.

BATES OF ADVERTISING. DAILY BAZOG:

one week WEEKLY BAZOO: One square, or less, one in

J. WEST GOODWIN.

Editor and Proprietor MUSICAL BUT SAD.

A Young Man Comes to Grief While Singing a Bonnet to His Sweetheart's Eve-brows - The Course of True Love Running

It is related of a young man, whose musical abilities have come into frequen request at concerts and church choirs, that an incident befell him recently, which has caused him to entertain a serious disgust for vocal culture. As the warm spring weather has advanced, developing buds and flowers, and calling into life and beauty the sweet throated warblers of the leafy bough song has felt the inspiration of his own talents stirring WITHIN HIS MEAST. a bird"-his sweetest love songs. What impressions these nocturnal visits have had upon his charmer, has not been learned. Their acquaintance is brief, and perhaps the young lady has not felt the arder that effect of this vocal ecstacy has, as Dominie Sampson was wont to remark, been simply prodigious. Supposing. however, that the solitary sevenad some favored suitor for his Aramantha's hand, he smothered his wrath and hore the infliction in silence. But there are limits to all human endurance, and this wealthy burgher of Sedalia proved no exception to the rule. One night he came home after a has so bewitched her admirer. But the tired to rest with AN INWARD ANATHEMA

city, a young and handsome physician, who, Just, however, as he was floating out into a pleased with the thrift and beauty of the radiant land of dreams-where trade was

"Come, darling, kies my team away." "I'll kiss your tears away," muttered the Success attended his advent in Clinton old gentleman, as he flung himself out of time he bought his property, or soon afterwards, he commenced keeping "bach"

MADE FOR THE DOOR.

the old man in a voice like a war-whoop, until his exit from the scene of his exploits.

Dame

RUMOR WAS BUSY

"I'm sad to-night love—oh, so very sad.
"Confound you, I'll sadden you," yelled the old man in a voice like a war-whoop, as he sprang out in his long night robe into the center of the shrubbery. The uplifted came and the inflamed countenance flashed for a single instance on the astonished viswith her wagging tongue, and she found as ion of that amorous youth, and then like a she ever does those credulous people who wounded hart scared from its lair, he just tentive ear, even to the most idle and ab-surd stories.

Reports of his being a married man, who had deserted his wife, soon spread and had no soul for music. When he reached gained credence among his neighbors, who the fence he hung for a single instant on the top rail, and the irate pursuer had a chance to get his work in. The nervous

> But the young man didn't pause there to the old man's injunction—somewh evinced an aversion to vocal music, complains of rheumatic pains in hind ders.

Alas! how fast our dreams of beauty fade, DISTRICT PAIR

Meeting of the Stockholders Yester day-Organization-Major Gentry President-J. H. Gost. Secretary.

A meeting of the guarantee subscribers

o a District Fair was held at the city council rooms yesterday and was largely The meeting was called to order by the ele 'ion of Dr. E. C. Evans, chairman, and

Resolved. That the name of this asset first business in order would be the election

Major Wm. Gentry was then put in nom-ination and elected for President—the Mentor Thompson was elected First Vice

Geo. M. Casey, of Henry County, Third J. B. Pierce, of Cole County, Fourth and J. H. Gest Secretary.

Memrs. Pratt, Seibert and Scott were selected as a commi wards reported the names of the f entlemen to compose the Ros J. P. Legg, of Calhoun, Henry County.

M. H. Seibert, N. H. Gentry, All of whom were elected by a u vote of the meeting. Mourn, Scott and Selbort me ctance to serve on the Board, but were overruled by the association and finally acepted.

The Association was address Geo. Hussman concerning the proper magement and conduct of the enterprise, a expressed the belief that it would become

On motion of Mr. S. M. Merrison the officers elect were declared ex-officio members of the Board of Directors.

LATER:—Dr. — was seen on our streets his morning, but is now non cet.

On motion of Mr. S. M. Merrison the officers elect were declared ex-officio members of the Board of Directors.

On motion of Mr. Humman, the floere-tary was requested to notify the President of his election, and sak him to call a meet-